A recent Saturday afternoon saw the re-union of a few classmates who attended the Assumptionist minor seminary together at Our Lady of Lourdes in Cassadaga, NY. Thanks to Frank Aubuchon, who organized the get together at a local restaurant in Worcester, the group enjoyed sharing memories, stories and past experiences of their days in school together. Of most importance were their fond recollections of various Assumptionist priests and brothers who were assigned to the school at that time. It was also an opportunity to ‘catch up’ on their life experiences to the present day. After several hours of sharing these memories with joy and much laughter, all agreed that they would like to get together more often!
