

On May 18, 2015, Brother Eddy received his second degree from the Boston College School of Theology and Ministry, where most of our Assumptionist brothers in formation receive their seminary training alongside laypeople and members of other religious orders.

Brother Eddy received his ThM degree this week. Typically, our brothers earn a three-year MDiv (Master's of Divinity) followed by the one-year ThM (Master's of Theology) in order to complete the four years of theology which the Vatican requires for ordination to the priesthood.

Brother Eddy's next ministerial assignment, where he will profess Final Vows and discern his diaconate and priestly ordinations, will be in the Philippines. Let's pray for him on this next stage of his journey!
