DALZONIAN YOUTH RALLY IN VERACRUZ, MEXICO

From November 22-24, 2019, The FRAS (Assumptionist Fraternity) members in Mexico met to celebrate 139 years since the entrance to eternal life of Father Emmanuel D'Alzon, founder of the Augustinians of the Assumption.

This event was organized almost 100% by FRAS, in which the leadership of the youth, their creativity, and their initiative were very much on display. The theme proposed for this Dalzonian rally was: "Cultivating the Passion of Hope with Emmanuel D'Alzon," based on our Superior General's Letter on Hope.

In their reflections, the youth noted the importance of hope in a world where delinquency, kidnappings and murders threaten to leave young people without a future.

The activities included: a talk on hope by Father Oswaldo Garcia Sanchez, a Rally of Hope (made up of games, challenges, and reflections about the theme of hope), a March for Peace and Justice, a Holy Hour for Peace, and, at the end, a commitment to work for the kingdom of God, in which the participants were given the Assumptionist Cross and invited to the Advent mission that took place December 13 to 22 in some communities of the Tlilapan parish.

As it does every year, this event left us with great satisfaction and challenged us to continue working with the youth in the spirit of Emmanuel d'Alzon, helping them commit themselves more and more to the establishment of the Kingdom in their lives.
