

Assumption College and Assumption College Campus Ministry hosted on Sunday a National Religious Vocation Conference, or NRVC, workshop on the upcoming Synod on Young People, the Faith, and Vocational Discernment. About 45 people -- religious, ordained, and lay, along with a smattering of students -- attended. The Assumptionists were one of the organizers of the workshop.

Sr. Julie Fertsch, SSJ, served as the workshop speaker and facilitator of a panel of people who were in different stages of their religious life: discerner, candidate, young priest, and so on. Bro. Daniele Caglioni, an Assumptionist student brother, was a member of the panel.
