

In the past month, two Assumptionist brothers passed on from this life - Fr. Camillus Thibault and Fr. Oliver Blanchette. Here, Fr. Dennis reflects on the joy and zeal they brought to our lives and their ministries.

Their exchanges across the table at Old English Road were often feisty and sometimes humorous. Cam, whose “filter” was not filtering so well, and Oliver who responded to what he thought he had heard. So they went at it on occasion, these two essentially kind-hearted men, both trying to come to terms with their assorted diminishments.

Read more...