Statement from Bishop Robert
McManus, Catholic
Bishop of Worcester

"I join with my brother bishops and all people of good will in condemning the violence which took place on Wednesday at the United States Capitol. This lack of respect for our fellow citizens, regardless of their party affiliation, is the greatest threat to our American dream. Please keep in your prayers members of Congress and all who are in authority as they work to restore order and public safety as well as lead our nation with respect for our

Statement from Archbishop José H.
Gomez of Los Angeles, president of the U.S. Conference of Catholic Bishops (USCCB)

"I join people of good will in condemning the violence today at the United States Capitol. This is not who we are as Americans. I am praying for members of Congress and Capitol staff and for the police and all those working to restore order and public safety.

"The peaceful transition of power is one of the hallmarks of this great nation. In

Statement from Cardinal Wilton
Gregory, Catholic
Bishop of Washington

"Our United States Capitol is sacred ground and a place where people over the past centuries have rightly demonstrated, representing a wide variety of opinions. We Americans should honor the place where our nation's laws and policies are debated and decided. We should feel violated when the legacy of freedom enshrined in that building is disrespected and desecrated.
